Dear Senator Burke:

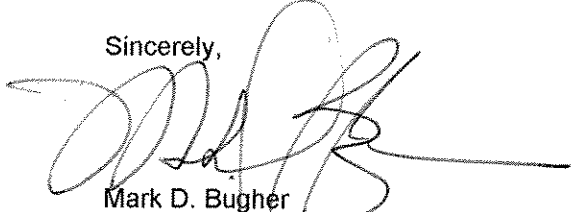

Thank you for your January 29, 1997 letter apprising me of the contact that a member of my Department made with your office regarding the Low Income Energy Assistance Pilot projects. I am pleased that you brought this matter to my attention.

I have spoken with Mr. Meier's supervisor, Nat Robinson. Mr. Robinson tells me that in an effort to effectively address the Committee's concerns, he asked Mr. Meier to request a meeting with your staff. Mr. Robinson further tells me that the reason for his action was that he and his staff felt they were not sufficiently responsive to the Committee's inquiries on two previous occasions. Before forwarding a reply to your January 13 letter, Mr. Robinson felt that it was important to make sure that he and his staff fully understood the Committee's request.

Senator Burke, let me assure you that our intent was honorable and that the request for a discussion between staffs was for the sole purpose of allowing us to fully address the Committee's interests. We sincerely regret any misunderstanding or perception to the contrary. I am confident that Mr. Robinson understands my policy of always being courteous, professional, timely and polite when representing the Department on any and all matters. I am satisfied that this incident is isolated and will not be repeated.

We very much appreciate your support of initiatives advanced by the Department to help meet the energy needs of Wisconsin's low and fixed income families. Again, thank you for sharing your concerns with me.

Sincerely,

Mark D. Bugher

Department of Administration

Dear Secretary Bugher:

I am writing to you concerning the implementation of the Department of Administration's Low Income Energy Assistance Pilot projects. As you may know, the Joint Committee on Finance is currently reviewing the One Stop Shop for Services Pilot Program which we received on January 13, 1997.

The Committee has been working with the Department of Administration on an ongoing basis to ensure that these pilot projects are implemented in the most effective manner possible. Specifically, the Committee has required that administrative costs, including staff support and program delivery costs, not exceed 15% of the total oil overcharge funds allocated to an individual pilot. Additionally, the Committee has submitted various requests for additional information intended assist us in our review process.

My office recently received a phone call from Patrick Meier, from the Bureau of Energy at DOA, regarding the Committee's ongoing correspondence with the Department on this matter. Mr. Meier called to discuss the Committee's approach to reviewing these items and to inquire about the nature of their repeated requests for follow-up information as well as their modifications. He seemed to imply that the Committee was taking an unusual approach to the review process and that our well-intended recommendations were instead part of some other agenda.

I hope that this individual does not reflect the attitude of the entire Department on this important matter. The Committee is most certainly concerned about the status of these pilot programs and hopes that they can be implemented soon in a manner which will benefit the greatest number of Wisconsin citizens in need of low income energy services. Our job is to implement quality programs at the lowest possible cost. In an effort to have productive discussions concerning these matters, I hope that any future challenges concerning the Committee's methodology emanating from DOA be raised directly by you.

You should feel free to contact me if you have additional questions on this issue.

Sincerely,

Dear Katharine:

Thank you for your recent memorandum concerning the elimination of two reports required by action of the Joint Committee on Finance under s. 13.10, Stats. It was good to hear from you.

I have reviewed the material you submitted, and I appreciate your taking the time to describe these reports to me in detail. I agree that it is no longer necessary to report this information each year to the Joint Committee on Finance.

Because these reporting requirements were established under s. 13.10, Stats., a formal review process by the Committee is necessary in order to eliminate them. UW Systems must first submit a formal request to the Co-Chairs for action under s. 13.10, Stats. The Committee will then consider the request pursuant to s. 13.10, Stats., and, subject to approval by the Committee and the Governor, the reports will be eliminated.

I appreciate your interest in this matter, and you can be assured of my support for your efforts. If I can be of further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

SUBJECT: UW System Reports on Undergraduate Course Drop Rates and Private Matching Funds for Schools of Business

Recently you received a letter from UW System President, Katherine Lyall, dated January 28, 1997, asking that the Joint Committee on Finance consider the elimination of two reports which are submitted annually to the Committee by the UW System: the report on undergraduate course drop rates and the report on private matching funds for UW schools of business. These reports, which President Lyall believes are no longer necessary, were requested by the Joint Committee on Finance at separate meetings under s. 13.10 of the statutes. This memorandum provides background information on the reports and the circumstances under which they were initially required.

Undergraduate Course Drop Rates

At its September 19, 1988 meeting under s. 13.10 of the statutes, the Joint Committee on Finance directed the UW System to report annually to the Committee on campuses where undergraduate course drop rates exceed 5% and on steps being taken to achieve a 5% drop rate at these campuses. This action was taken in response to a separate Board of Regents report to the Committee which was required in the 1987-89 state budget (1987 Act 27). Among other items, the report was to include the University's plans to revise procedures for allowing a student to add or drop a course after the start of a semester. A nonstatutory provision in Act 27 also directed the Board of Regents to require individual UW System campuses to report by January 1, 1988, on their plans to revise add/drop procedures to encourage the most efficient use of campus resources.

The interest in course drop rates and policies arose in the mid to late 1980s out of concern that many students' progress toward graduation was being delayed by their inability to enroll in needed courses. Between 1978-79 and 1986-87, UW systemwide student enrollments had increased by 14,000 FTEs (11.3%) while the number of FTE faculty had increased by 2.2% and the number of class sections remained stable. The lack of sufficient student access to courses was at least partly due to a large number of students registering for courses which they later dropped. At the time, most campuses allowed students to add courses only through the tenth day of classes but allowed courses to be dropped well past mid-semester. The combination of these add/drop policies and a tuition policy, still in effect today, under which the same tuition is charged for 12 to 18 credits, resulted in many students registering for a greater number of courses than they intended to complete, and dropping one or two of them later in the semester.

Since 1988-89, UW campuses have taken a number of steps to reduce their course drop rates. These changes in campus policies, which varied by campus, include: (a) shortening the period of time during which a student may drop a course; (b) charging a "drop fee" for courses dropped after the tenth day of classes; (c) noting that a course was dropped on student transcripts; (d) over-enrolling certain courses; (e) limiting the number of times a student may drop a course; and (f) limiting the number of credits for which a student may initially register. In addition to changes in campus policies, the UW System implemented enrollment management plans, beginning in 1987-88 and ending in 1994-95, aimed at reducing systemwide enrollments in order to improve the quality of educational services. The resulting decrease in enrollments of over 13,600 FTE students between 1986-87 and 1994-95 also eased the overcrowding experienced by students at many campuses.

A campus' drop rate is calculated by comparing the number of credits completed at the end of the semester to the number of credits for which students had registered by the end of the tenth day of classes, less the number of credits taken by students who withdraw from the institution after the tenth day of classes. In the fall semester of 1988-89, the systemwide drop rate was 5.5% and seven of the 13 comprehensive and doctoral campuses and the UW Center System had drop rates which exceeded 5%. By the fall semester of 1992-93, the systemwide drop rate had declined to 3.9% and only one campus had a drop rate of over 5% (Madison, 5.4%). During the 1993-94 academic year, drop rates for all campuses' were below 5%. In the fall semesters of both 1994-95 and 1995-96, UW-Stout was the only campus with a drop rate greater than 5% (5.7% in 1994-95 and 5.2% in 1995-96).

In its 1991-92 report, submitted to the Committee in July of 1992, the UW System, citing the decline in drop rates and the time-consuming nature of the data collection process for the institutions and for System Administration, requested that the report be discontinued. The UW System renewed this request in its report on 1992-93 drop rates. In a letter to President Lyall dated August 4, 1993, Senator Joe Leean, then Co-Chair of the Joint Committee on Finance, commended the campuses' efforts to reduce drop rates but refused the request to discontinue the report. In his letter, Senator Leean stated that he believed "that collection of this data on an ongoing basis would only be good management and something the institutions would want to do and also data the Regents should want to review."

Schools of Business Private Matching Funds

The UW System's annual report on the amount of private matching funds for the UW schools of business was initially required by the Joint Committee on Finance at its May 14, 1990 meeting under s. 13.10 of the statutes. In the 1989-91 state budget (1989 Act 31), the Governor and Legislature provided $1,100,000 GPR and $592,300 PR annually, in two new appropriations, to support improvements in master's level business programs at the seven campuses which had such programs. The additional funding was intended to leverage private contributions at the campus level to develop business programs which could achieve either a high national or regional ranking. Act 31 specified that no monies from these appropriations can be expended unless matching funds from private contributions are received. Further, the funds were placed in unallotted reserve subject to review and approval of a report submitted to the Committee by the UW System on the state's need for business programs, whether current programs satisfy those needs and how the Board of Regents plans to use the appropriated funds.

In February, 1990, the UW System submitted its report to the Co-Chairpersons of the Joint Committee on Finance and requested that the funds placed in unallotted reserve be released. In its review of the University's request, under s. 13.10 of the statutes, the Department of Administration recommended that the report be approved but noted that "it is unclear from the materials provided by the UW that the new GPR/Fees funding will actually leverage amounts of gift and reallocated funds beyond what is currently allocated to the business schools." In May, 1990, the Joint Committee on Finance approved the UW System's report and released the funds held in unallotted reserve. However, the Committee required the University to report annually, beginning July 1, 1990, on the amount of the required matching funds.

Annually, the report indicates the amount of GPR/PR funds received for the prior fiscal year and the amount of private funds raised by each of the business schools. The reports indicate that since the additional funds were initially appropriated in 1990-91, the private matching funds have exceeded the amounts appropriated. UW System President Lyall contends that the report is not necessary because s. 36.25 (28) of the statutes prohibits the Board of Regents from expending the business school improvement funds if the matching requirement is not met.

Status of Report Requirements

Both of the reports which President Lyall has requested be eliminated were required by action of the Joint Committee on Finance under s. 13.10 of the statutes. Under s. 13.10, all requests for action by the Committee are subject to approval, in whole or in part, by the Governor. Because these reporting requirements were established by action of the Committee under s. 13.10, any modification or elimination of these requirements would necessitate a formal request from the UW System, and approval by the Committee and Governor, under s. 13.10.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

RE: Elimination of two reports: (1) annual report on undergraduate drop rates; and (2) business schools report

On behalf of the UW System, I ask for your consideration of the elimination of two UW System reporting requirements mandated not by state statute but by directive of the Joint Committee on Finance. As we worked to spare instruction from the cuts required by the 1995-97 state budget, UW System Administration absorbed a disproportionate share of staff reductions. Centralized UW System staff were reduced by 20%. As a result, there are simply fewer staff available to prepare the myriad of reports required by the Legislature, the Department of Administration and the Joint Committee on Finance.

With a substantially reduced administrative structure (the UW System spends only 6.1% of its budget on administration, compared to an average of 10.8% for our peers), cuts in administrative staff must be followed by elimination of administrative mandates if the UW System is to maintain the level of service to its students. I believe the following reports can be eliminated without impairing our accountability to students, state taxpayers or the Legislature.

First, the UW System seeks elimination of the annual report on undergraduate course drop rates. In 1988, the Joint Finance Committee directed the UW System to report annually on the campuses where undergraduate course drop rates exceed 5% and on steps taken to achieve a 5% drop rate at those institutions. On an annual basis, the Systemwide drop rate has fallen from 5.3% in 1988-89 to 3.8% in 1994-95 and all UW institutions now have processes in place to prevent drop rates from exceeding 5%.

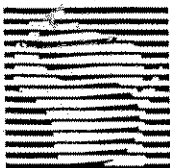

In the past four years, only one institution (UW-Stout) has exceeded the 5% drop rate for the Fall semester. UW-Stout will continue to monitor drop rates closely and plans to implement appropriate measures next year should drop rates continue to exceed the threshold. No institution (including Stout) has exceeded the threshold for the Spring semester since 1991. This reporting requirement has accomplished its intent and we believe preparation of this report, which requires one and one-half weeks at each UW institution and two weeks at System Administration, is no longer time well spent.

Second, the UW System seeks the elimination of the annual Business Schools Report. This report documents the amount of private funds generated as a match for GPR dollars targeted to master's level business programs. The report is not necessary because section 36.25(28) of the statutes already mandates the availability of appropriate matching funds before GPR dollars may be spent on business programs. Any failure to meet the appropriate match would be discovered by internal UW System audit and result in non-receipt of the GPR funds.

Even this modest request to eliminate these two reports will make a difference to the UW System administration. Every unnecessary report that can be safely eliminated will allow the remaining administrative staff to focus their time on reports and programs that really make a difference to students and the quality of education.

Thank you for your consideration of this request. I look forward to working with both of you to ensure that the reporting requirements placed on the UW System are reasonable and purposeful. Please don't hesitate to let me know if you would like further information on these reports or other UW System reporting requirements.

SUBJECT: 1995-96 Report on Undergraduate Course Drop Rates

At the September 1988 Hearing, S13.10, of the Legislative Joint Committee on Finance, the committee passed a motion which directed the UW System to report annually to the committee beginning April 1, 1990, on campuses where the undergraduate course drop rates exceed 5 percent and on steps being taken to achieve a 5 percent drop rate at those institutions. The reporting date was changed to August 1 by the Joint Committee on Finance on September 13, 1990.

This past Fall 1995-96, one institution, UW-Stout, exceeded the 5 percent threshold. The Fall 1995-96 drop rate for UW-Stout was 5.2%. UW-Stout will continue to monitor drop rates closely and plans to implement measures next year should drop rates continue to exceed the threshold. For the Spring 1994-95, no institution exceeded the 5 percent threshold.

UW System continues to meet the intent of the Joint Committee on Finance's motion to reduce the number of dropped credits to below the 5 percent threshold. We are pleased to report that the systemwide average drop rate continues to decline steadily, between Fall 1988 and Fall 1995 from 5.5 percent to 3.9 percent. The spring term rates have fallen from 5.1 percent to 3.7 percent. On an annualized basis, the drop rate has fallen from 5.3 percent (1988-89) to 3.8 percent (1994-95).

REPORT ON 1995-96 UNDERGRADUATE DROP RATES

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

BACKGROUND

In September 1988, the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents passed Resolution 5045 in response to 1987-88 Wisconsin Act 27. Resolution 5045 "directs the UW System Administration to:

1. Monitor course drop rates at all UW System institutions.
2. Require all UW System institutions to reduce or maintain course drop rates during any academic year at no more than five percent of the credit hours registered at the close of the tenth day of classes at the beginning of the fall and spring terms.
3. Directs all UW System institutions whose drop rates exceed five percent, effective in the fall of 1989, to develop and implement plans to reduce the drop rate to five percent. Such plans will be subject to the review and approval of System Administration.
4. Report to the Board of Regents whenever the combined rate of dropped credits across the UW System exceeds five percent in any academic year, beginning in the fall of 1990, and make recommendations for further action by the Board of Regents on UW System add/drop policies."

In addition, at the September 1988 Hearing, S13.10, of the Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance, the committee passed a motion which directed the UW System to report annually to the committee beginning April 1, 1990, on campuses where undergraduate drop rates exceed five percent and on the steps being taken to achieve a five percent drop rate at those institutions. The reporting date was changed to August 1 by the Joint Committee on Finance on September 13, 1990.

The primary difference in the reporting requirements to the UW Board of Regents and to the Legislative Joint Finance Committee is that UW System Administration is required to report to the Board of Regents whenever the Systemwide rate of dropped credits exceeds five percent, and to report annually to the Legislative Joint Committee on Finance on campuses where undergraduate drop rates exceed five percent.

REQUESTED ACTION

Acceptance of the Report on 1995-96 Undergraduate Drop Rates for submission to the Joint Committee on Finance.

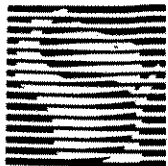

DISCUSSION

The Joint Committee on Finance directed the UW System to report annually to the committee on campuses where undergraduate drop rates exceed five percent. The Fall drop rate at UW-Stout is above five percent for the second year in a row, but did decline from the previous year. UW-Stout will continue to monitor drop rates closely and plans to implement appropriate measures next year should drop rates continue to exceed the threshold. In Spring 1994-95, no institution exceeded the threshold.

UW System continues to meet the intent of Resolution 5045 by reducing the number of dropped credits to below the five percent threshold. The fall term systemwide drop rate has fallen from 5.5 percent in Fall 1988 to 3.9 percent in Fall 1995, continuing a general pattern of decline of this rate. The spring term drop rates have fallen from 5.1 percent in Spring 1989 to 3.7 percent in Spring 1995. On an annual basis, the drop rate has fallen from 5.3 percent in 1988-89 to 3.8 percent in 1994-95.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Senator Brian Burke, Co-Chair
Representative Ben Brancel, Co-Chair
Joint Committee on Finance

FROM: Katharine C. Lyall K. Lyall

RE: Report on Private Matching Funds for UW System Schools of Business

In 1990 the Joint Committee on Finance approved the release of $1,692,300 GPR/Fees for UW System Business Schools and required that the University report annually to the Committee on the amount of required match of funds raised by each business school, as stated in Section 709m of Act 31:

"36.25 (28) SCHOOLS OF BUSINESS. The board shall use the funds in the appropriations under s.20.285(1)(em) and (Ls) to support improvements in master's level business programs. The board may spend funds in those appropriations only if it receives matching funds for the same purpose from private contributions."

In accordance with this statutory provision, the Board of Regents allocated Business Education funds to UW System institutions based on a review of UW System business programs by a panel of external consultants and on the ability of individual business schools to raise private funds to match state resources. In addition, UW System Administration developed financial guidelines for the Business Education program to ensure that the funds are spent in accordance with Section 709m of Act 31. These guidelines stipulate that private matching funds must be on deposit and gifts-in-kind must be reported to the Board of Regents in its Gifts, Grants, and Contracts Report no later than the same quarter as GPR/Fees are spent. To provide oversight of this process, these guidelines also require institutions to deposit these private matching funds in a separate account and to submit annual reports to UW System Administration.

We have received correspondence from each institution on the status of their private fund raising for both the current fiscal year (1995-96) and for the upcoming year (1996-97). I am pleased to report, as the table below shows, that institutions raised more than the required private matching funds for 1995-96.

	1995-96 Base Funding	1995-96 Competitive Funding	Total Funding	Matching Funds Raised
UW-Madison	$1,128,144	$45,200	$1,173,344	$1,173,344
UW-Milwaukee	$438,161	$30,100	$468,261	$468,261
UW-Eau Claire		$15,000	$15,000	$15,000
UW-La Crosse	$77,200		$77,200	$84,674
UW-Oshkosh	$77,200	$11,000	$88,200	$95,000
UW-Parkside		$16,000	$16,000	$28,500
UW-Whitewater	$116,961		$116,961	$123,363
TOTAL	$1,837,666	$117,300	$1,954,966	$1,988,142

In addition, all institutions have received commitments for the private matching funds required for 1996-97 base funding except UW-La Crosse and UW-Whitewater. UW-La Crosse is implementing a comprehensive fund raising plan as part of its effort to celebrate the college's 25th Anniversary. UW-Whitewater is beginning its 1996-97 fund raising campaign and expects to meet or exceed its 1995-96 donation level. As required by statute, institutions will not spend GPR/Fee resources until private matching funds have been received.

I thank the Committee for its help in improving UW System Business Schools. The additional state resources, along with generous contributions from the private sector and reallocated resources of UW System institutions have helped promote quality business programs at UW System institutions. Please do not hesitate to call me or Senior Vice President David J. Ward at 262-3826 if you have additional questions on this matter.

Dear Governor Thompson:

On February 21, Lt. Governor Scott McCallum recommended that the Council for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (formerly the Council for the Hearing Impaired), be abolished and its functions transferred to the reorganized Council on Supportive Living (currently the Council on Developmental Disabilities). I am enclosing a letter I wrote to Mr. McCallum on behalf of the Wisconsin Deaf, Deaf-Blind and Hard of Hearing Alliance more than a year ago, January 29, 1996. Our position remains unchanged. This population has communication barriers which prevents obtaining information in the way "hearing" people obtain it. No other disability group shares barriers to communications as their biggest obstacle.

Please continue and strengthen the Council for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing. Our needs are very different and will not be fairly represented in a joint council environment.

Sincerely,

Arvilla Rank

Dear Lt. Governor:

The Wisconsin Deaf, Deaf-Blind and Hard-of-Hearing Alliance (Alliance), a coalition organization, is very concerned about your position towards advisory councils. According to the January 7, 1996, State Journal you would combine all disability councils into one council. Although cross-disability information sharing is a worthy goal, years of experience have taught us that there are too many unique needs among the sensory disabled, physically disabled, cognitively disabled, developmentally disabled, mentally ill, etc. One council could not adequately address any of these groups needs.

The Council for the Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing assists the Wisconsin Office for the Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing in obtaining input regarding the most important issues in the deaf and hard-of-hearing community and prioritizing them. More and more agencies are seeking input from their customers. Deaf, Deaf-Blind and Hard-of-Hearing consumers have a communication disability which limits their free sharing of information with the community at large. Standard ways of obtaining input from the community generally overlooks this population.

It is imperative that we have this council with their special expertise to assure that the Deaf, Deaf-Blind and Hard-of-Hearing population's needs are addressed in a progressive way.

Sincerely,

Arvilla Rank

Governor Tommy Thompson
PO Box 7863
115E Executive Office
Madison, WI 53707-7863

Dear Governor Thompson:

As the Chairperson of the Governor's Advisory Council for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing that advises the Department of Health and Family Services through the collaborative efforts of the Division of Supportive Living, the Bureau of Sensory Disabilities, the Office for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing, I wish to comment on the current plans to incorporate this Council into the Council on Developmental Disabilities.

We are fully aware of your enormous responsibilities in bringing about an acceptable state budget. We are very cognizant of the fact that all special interest groups consider their needs paramount, but we feel that the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community is unique in the fact that no other disability group has to contend with communication barriers on a daily basis that we experience to our dismay and frustration. For us, the tragedy is not in the loss of hearing itself, but in the absolute impact that communication access has on not only the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community, but also the Hearing community at large. For less than $10,000 per year, we believe the council can generate and initiate ideas that will save the State of Wisconsin hundreds of thousands of dollars over the next few years. This is literally a bargain!

Further, please bear in mind that the Deaf and Hard of Hearing communities make up only 2 percent of the total disability community. For this reason, representation only on a broader-based disability advisory group would result in a loss of essential input to the DHFS and its involved subagencies. The array of issues involving the quality of life for persons with hearing loss would never be adequately addressed within the larger council for disabilities in general. As a result, the State of Wisconsin risks greater costs, both long- and short-term, to meet the needs of its Deaf and Hard of Hearing citizenry, if such issues are not addressed in timely fashion.

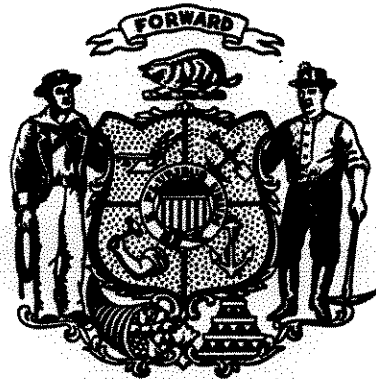

On behalf of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community of the State of Wisconsin, I urge that you take action to leave the Council for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing intact in the 1997-1999 budget, and we all thank you in anticipation that you will make every effort to do so.

Very Sincerely Yours,

Timothy A. Jaech, Chair
Wisconsin Council for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing

Re: Budget Hearing

Dear Senator Brian Burke:

Thank you for the opportunity to present our 1998-99 agency budget to you last week. I look forward to receiving the Fiscal Bureau's comments and discussing them with you..

As I had indicated to you by prior letter and my personal comments at the hearing, I believe our agency has achieved and exceeded many of the goals of our 1996-97 budget. While we are spending less money for supplies and services, we are lacking adequate staff to complete some of our basic functions. Your approval to fund the .50 Financial Specialist position (DIN 5220) will help to insure the signing of state checks. In addition, your funding of the Senior Accountant position will help to comply with the Audit Bureau's recommendations of providing professionally trained support staff within the cash management division.

I have performed a considerable amount of outreach effort to inform the public and provide access to unclaimed property information. This outreach has included the distribution of unclaimed property owners lists to nearly 200 public libraries, numerous state legislators and all county treasurers and county clerks. I have attached a copy of the unclaimed property list for your hometown area. If you would like a listing of your district, please contact my office. I would be willing to mail a joint unclaimed property letter with our signatures to those persons you have identified with their current address.

Again, your support is greatly appreciated as we deliver better taxpayer service and operate more efficiently with fewer budget dollars.

Sincerely,

Jack
